

Cleaning for Health & Safety in Hotels & Resorts

At Jani-King, we understand the unique and changing environment you face to keep your hotels and resorts in pristine condition. Choosing a commercial cleaning and housekeeping provider that has the knowledge and experience in the hospitality industry is important to uphold the highest standards to keep your guests coming back and keep your staff members healthy and safe.

Cleaning and disinfecting high-touch areas is critical for better protecting your guests and staff. Just as you make it a priority to wash hands, move high-touch point disinfecting up on your list of best practices for a safer, healthier work-environment.

Focusing More On High Traffic Touch Areas

High Frequency Touchpoints in Hotel Rooms

Jani-King offers a disinfecting program with options such as electrostatic sprayers, fogging equipment, and manual disinfecting methods, all of which have been proven to be effective in reducing the risks associated with the spread of viruses in hotels and resorts.
