

Press Release

Jani-King of New Mexico Named Official Cleaning Company of Lobo Athletics

Albuquerque, NM — Jani-King of New Mexico is proud to announce its new partnership with the University of New Mexico, becoming the Official Cleaning Company of Lobo Athletics. This designation builds on a strong relationship that began in 2018, when Jani-King first began providing professional cleaning services for Lobo Athletics facilities.

For the past several years, Jani-King of New Mexico has helped maintain the cleanliness and safety of University Stadium and The Pit, supporting student-athletes, coaches, and fans with reliable and high-quality service. As the Official Cleaning Company of Lobo Athletics, Jani-King will continue to ensure UNM's facilities meet the highest standards of cleanliness and hygiene.

"We are very excited to expand our relationship with Lobo Athletics and to continue to serve the University," said Stephen Hagedorn, President of Jani-King of New Mexico. "Since 2018, we have taken great pride in helping keep Lobo facilities spotless and game-day ready. It is an exciting time for Lobos Athletics and we are proud to support them."

Locally owned and operated, Jani-King of New Mexico has served businesses and institutions across the state for over 25 years, providing customized cleaning solutions to industries ranging from offices and healthcare to sports and entertainment.

Fans can expect to see Jani-King's presence at athletic events and facilities throughout the year, reflecting the company's continued investment in the University and the State of New Mexico.

About Jani-King of New Mexico

Jani-King of New Mexico is a locally-owned regional franchise of Jani-King International, the world's largest commercial cleaning franchise company. Since opening its doors, Jani-King of New Mexico has delivered professional cleaning and disinfecting services across the state, creating cleaner, healthier environments for businesses, schools, and other institutions while providing business opportunities to dozens of local owned franchisees.

About Lobo Athletics

The University of New Mexico's Lobo Athletics program competes at the highest levels of NCAA Division I sports. With a proud history of excellence, Lobo Athletics is dedicated to fostering athletic success, academic achievement, and community engagement across all its programs.